Sarah Raoof is an associate in the Orange County, California, office of Jackson Lewis P.C. Her practice focuses on representing employers in workplace law matters, including preventive advice and counseling.

While in law school, Sarah completed over 200 hours of pro bono practice at the Orange County Public Defender's Office, where her interest in litigation began. She also served as a staff editor for the UC Irvine Journal of International, Transnational and Comparative Law. After law school, Sarah practiced dependency law for two years, representing parents in the Los Angeles dependency system. She first-chaired several hundred bench trials and gained invaluable courtroom experience.
