Alis M. Moon is a principal in the Orange County, California, office of Jackson Lewis P.C. Noted for her diverse and dynamic practice, Alis is especially skilled at defending companies in complex employment litigation, which includes wage and hour class actions and Private Attorneys General Act (PAGA) claims. Her proficiency also extends to single plaintiff cases involving discrimination, harassment, retaliation, wrongful termination, and failure to accommodate disabilities.

Beyond litigation, Alis is also instrumental in providing proactive compliance advice and devising litigation avoidance strategies. She is adept at conducting wage and hour audits, crafting employee handbooks, and developing written employment policies. This preventative aspect of her practice highlights her commitment to not just resolving legal issues but also anticipating and mitigating them, effectively shielding her clients from unnecessary risk.
