Keith Dropkin is a principal in the White Plains, New York, office of Jackson Lewis P.C.

Keith counsels clients regarding various benefit issues including fiduciary duty obligations, corrections under the DOL and IRS compliance programs, the drafting and design of pension and welfare benefit plans, payroll taxes and those issues arising in mergers and acquisitions. He has represented clients ranging from self-employed individuals to Fortune Top 50 companies. Keith speaks and writes regularly about employee benefits and has been a contributing author for the treatise Employee Benefits Law, published by the Bureau of National Affairs.

Prior to joining Jackson Lewis in 2004, Keith was an attorney from 1998 to 2004 at a California law firm specializing in employee benefits law. Before practicing law, Keith was a Peace Corps volunteer in the Dominican Republic. He is blessed with (and outnumbered by) a wonderful wife and two daughters.
