Alyssa J. Calabrese is an associate in the Long Island, New York, office of Jackson Lewis P.C. Her practice focuses on preparing affirmative action plans for federal contractors and defending federal contractors in audits by the United States Department of Labor Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP).

Alyssa assists federal contractors in the preparation of affirmative action plans and EEO-1 and VETS-4212 reports, and defends contractors against allegations of discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, gender identity, national origin, disability, and veteran status in connection with audits by the OFCCP and in related litigation brought on OFCCP's behalf by the Solicitor's Office at the U.S. Department of Labor. She also provides counsel on state affirmative action obligations and assists clients in the design and implementation of proactive pay equity analyses.

While attending law school, Alyssa was a senior associate editor of the Hofstra Law Review. She was named to the Dean's List in all semesters and earned First Year Excellence Awards in Civil Procedure I and Transnational Law.
