Parth P. Jani is an associate in the Orange County, California, office of Jackson Lewis P.C.

While attending Law School, Parth served as the managing editor of UC Irvine Law Review and participated in Moot Court. He also was a class representative for the Student Bar Association for all three years of law school. Parth was involved in the Community and Economic Development Clinic, where he advocated for mobile home parks in the local community and advised the Board of Directors on issues about the property. After his first year of law school, he served as an extern for the Honorable Theodor C. Albert, United States Bankruptcy Court Central District of California. As a peer mentor and community fellow, he helped his fellow students navigate law school.

After his second year of law school, Parth worked as a summer law clerk in the Jackson Lewis Summer Clerk Program for the Orange County office, and was a recipient of the firm's Vincent A. Cino Scholarship for his 2019-2020 school year.
