

Massachusetts Releases Paid Family and Medical Leave Employee Template Notices

By Jeffrey S. Brody, Matthew D. Freeman, Brian E. Lewis, Matthew C. Chambers & Keerthi Sugumaran

April 19, 2019

Meet the Authors

Jeffrey S. Brody

(He/Him)

Office Managing Principal

(617) 367-0025

Jeffrey.Brody@jacksonlewis.com

Matthew D. Freeman

Principal

617-367-0025

Matthew.Freeman@jacksonlewis.com

Brian E. Lewis

The Massachusetts Department of Family and Medical Leave (DFML) has released template notices employers may use to fulfill the notice requirement to employees and 1099-MISC independent contractors under the Massachusetts Paid Family and Medical Leave Act (PFMLA), G.L. c. 175M. Employers must provide a notice to their current workforce by May 31, 2019.

The notice must cover the benefits, contribution rates, and other protections available under the PFMLA. The notice also includes an acknowledgment, which must be signed by employees and contract workers and retained by the employer.

The DFML's notice templates contain fields that the employer must complete. These fields include the employer's name and address, the contribution rates and intended deductions, and whether the employer will utilize the private plan exemption.

Employers who currently offer or are planning to offer a private benefit that meets the minimum standards of the PFMLA may apply for an exemption from the PFMLA beginning April 29, 2019.

Employers choosing to create their own notices, rather than use the templates provided by the state, must ensure the notices include the following sections:

- An explanation of the availability of family and medical leave benefits
- The employee's contribution amount and obligations
- The employer's contribution amount and obligations
- The employer's name and address and the identification number assigned by the DFML
- Instructions on how to file for a claim for family and medical benefits
- The address, email address, and telephone number of the DFML

The notice provided to 1099-MISC contractors differs slightly from the one provided to employees, such as requiring an explanation of how the worker can obtain coverage as a self-employed individual and the contribution obligations they would assume if they choose to obtain such coverage.

Employers may provide the notice to employees and contractors electronically and receive the acknowledgments of receipt electronically as well. Employees' acknowledgments of receipt should be placed in the employees' files. If an employee fails to return the acknowledgment, the employer still fulfills its notice obligation if it can establish it provided the notice and an opportunity to acknowledge or decline to acknowledge receipt of the notice to each member of its current workforce.

Employers must provide notice to new employees within 30 days of employment and to contractors when entering into a contract for services.

(He/Him)
Principal
617-367-0025
Brian.Lewis@jacksonlewis.com

Please contact Jackson Lewis with any questions regarding providing the PFMLA notice to your workforce or other workplace requirements.

Matthew C. Chambers

(He/Him • Matt)

Associate

Matthew.Chambers@jacksonlewis.com

Keerthi Sugumaran

Principal

617-305-1216

Keerthi.Sugumaran@jacksonlewis.com

Related Services

Disability, Leave and Health

Management

©2019 Jackson Lewis P.C. This material is provided for informational purposes only. It is not intended to constitute legal advice nor does it create a client-lawyer relationship between Jackson Lewis and any recipient. Recipients should consult with counsel before taking any actions based on the information contained within this material. This material may be considered attorney advertising in some jurisdictions. Prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome.

Focused on labor and employment law since 1958, Jackson Lewis P.C.'s 1000+ attorneys located in major cities nationwide consistently identify and respond to new ways workplace law intersects business. We help employers develop proactive strategies, strong policies and business-oriented solutions to cultivate high-functioning workforces that are engaged, stable and diverse, and share our clients' goals to emphasize inclusivity and respect for the contribution of every employee. For more information, visit <https://www.jacksonlewis.com>.